1. Scope and Purpose

Loughborough College is committed to making reasonable adjustments and offering additional support to ensure that learners, who may otherwise be disadvantaged due to learning difficulties and disabilities and medical conditions, including mental health have an equal chance of completing their programme of learning and achieving successful outcomes. This will be done whilst promoting independence and maintaining dignity. The college recognises learning difficulties and disabilities as defined within the Equality Act 2010.

2. Policy Statement

Loughborough College has an inclusive culture whereby the needs of learners are promoted and supported throughout their learning. Reasonable adjustments will be made by those overseeing teaching and learning within the learning environment. Additional support can be offered based on an assessment of individual need.

The College will promote independence by reviewing learners’ needs and making adjustments to levels of support offered.

The college has strong links with local authorities and complies with current SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities) legislation to ensure best endeavours are applied throughout a learner’s journey. The college has regard for the SEND Code of Practice (2015) and fulfils its statutory duty towards children and young people (0-25) with SEN or disabilities.

The college is committed to eliminating discrimination, promoting equality of opportunity and fostering good relations between disabled and non-disabled children and young people.

The college has a published local offer in line with The Special Educational Needs (local offer) Regulations 2014 for more information on services and support.

3. Definitions

The college recognises that often words are abbreviated; below are a list if some useful definitions.

The reasonable adjustment duty

The duty is ‘to take such steps as it is reasonable to have to take to avoid the substantial disadvantage’ to a disabled person caused by a provision, criterion or practice applied by or on behalf of a college, or by the absence of an auxiliary aid or service. In the Equality Act 2010 as a whole, there are three elements to the reasonable adjustments duty that relate to:

• Provisions, criteria and practice
• Auxiliary aids and services
• Physical features

Best Endeavours

Some children and young people need educational provision that is additional to or different. This is special educational provision under Section 21 of the Children and Families Act 2014. Schools and colleges must use their best endeavours to ensure that such provision is made for those who need it. Special educational provision is underpinned by high quality teaching and is compromised by anything less

LDD

SEND

EHCP

SPLD

4. Legislation

5. Procedure

Potential learners are encouraged to declare learning difficulties/disabilities at the earliest opportunity to ensure that the college is able to put in place reasonable adjustments and use best endeavours to allocate the right support at the right time. Learners have the opportunity to declare any support needs, learning difficulties or disabilities from the application stage.
Once an application form has been received the Additional Learning Support Team, located within the Learner Services team are able to make contact with potential learners and/or their parents to be able to arrange a needs assessment. The Additional Support team will make contact via telephone, email and letter. The college addresses emails and letters in the name of the applying candidate to the addresses provided.

If potential learners, parents/carers have not had an opportunity to make contact with the Additional learning Support Team prior to starting their programme, the team liaises with the curriculum staff to ensure that support needs can be reviewed at the earliest opportunity at the beginning of term. Whilst curriculum staff will encourage and support learners to book and attend an assessment, the responsibility for this is placed upon the learner/parent/carer.

For more information about support relating to exam concessions, please see the exam access arrangements policy.

For learner that have not declared a learning difficulty or disability at the application stage but present as requiring additional support within their studies, observed by their tutors, learners will be encouraged to make an appointment with the Additional Learning Support Team. The curriculum staff will discuss this with the learner in the first instance.

The support recommended may not always be exactly the same as what learners have received at previous schools. At college our aim is to support learners to be as independent with their learning as possible, which includes reviewing and looking at alternative support mechanisms that allow them to learn, and not be disadvantaged, whilst developing independent learning skills.

Learners have the right to refuse any additional support suggested and offered at any time.
